OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST THE KING

INTRODUCTION TO THE LITURGY OF THE DAY!

FIRST READING: 2 Samuel 5:1 - 3

Because David was so loved as leader, the elders of all the tribes anointed him king of Israel at Hebron. King David shepherded the people from then on.

SECOND READING: Colossians 1:12 - 20

•God's Son brought the people into the reign of forgiveness and love. He heads •the body, the church, and has primacy in all things, making peace through the •blood of His cross.

GOSPEL: Luke 23:35 - 43

The soldiers made fun of Jesus on the cross, offered him bitter wine, told him to save himself if he was the Christ, and put an inscription over his head: "This is the King of the Jews."

*How appropriate that at the conclusion of the Jubilee Year of Mercy, we hear the Gospel in which the Good Thief asks Jesus to remember him when Jesus comes into his kingdom. As we listen to these words, can we too come before the Lord Jesus and ask for mercy in our sinfulness?

LITURGY AND WORD

When Samuel was becoming old the people came with a demand for a king. In his old age he appointed his sons, Joel and Abijah as judges in Beersheba, but the people protested that his sons did not walk in his ways and took bribes and perverted justice. It was in this context that the people asked for a king to rule over them. Their argument was that the nations around them were already having kings and so why can't they too have kings to rule over them (1 Šam 8:5-6). Samuel was displeased by their demand, but the Lord told him to grant their request and to warn them concerning the way of a king and so Saul was anointed as the first king of

The two books of Samuel deal with the establishment of kingship that threatened the theocratic ideal but go on to show how this ideal became a reality under David. It is heartening to notice that the decline in the institution of kingship set in motion already with the reign of Solomon, son of David. In the history of Israelite kingship that lasted about five centuries there were only a handful of kings who were faithful to God, namely, David, Hezekiah and Josiah. In fact, the last king of Judah was apprehended by Nebuchadnezzar and was blinded after being forced to watch the execution of his own sons. After this there were no kings in Israel. So we learn that an institution of kingship that was granted against the wish of God ended in a bitter way. But the people still kept expecting that God would send them a righteous king to deliver them from their miseries. Some thought that the Messiah promised by God would be a king in the line of David. But when the Messiah came he did not lay any claim to be a king. Of course, the main thrust of Jesus, preaching was about the establishment of God's kingdom. But God's kingdom did not have territorial connotations. It is a spiritual kingdom.

This being the case what can we say about the kingship of Jesus? Kingship was very much alive during Jesus' lifetime. Jesus was born when Herod the great was king over Israel and Caesar Augustus was emperor in Rome. Jesus began his ministry when Tiberius succeeded Augustus as emperor of Rome. As we already mentioned, Jesus' preaching in terms of the kingdom of God could have given the impression to his listeners that Jesus was after all a king. Jesus' triumphant entry into Jerusalem was like a welcome given to a king. The charges leveled against Jesus by the Jewish authorities before Pilate was about Jesus' kingship. Pilate entered the praetorium again and called Jesus, and said to him, "Are you the King of the Jews?" Jesus answered, "My kingship is not of this world." To Pilate's repeated question about Jesus' kingship, Jesus finally gave the answer. Yes, Jesus is king, but he is king that rules people's heart.

Jesus is the universal king whose feast we are proud to celebrate. But he is a king that rules the hearts of people and not their territories. But Jesus rules with totally different notions of kingship. Jesus wants to save people from their miseries and from their perils. The work of saving that Jesus has been carrying out throughout his ministry has been carried out also from his cross. To the good thief who implored Jesus for remembrance when he came in his kingly power, Jesus rewarded him with instant offer of salvation, "Truly, I say to you, today you will be with me in paradise (Lk. 23:43).
