SECOND SUNDAY OF ADVENT

INTRODUCTION TO THE LITURGY OF THE DAY!

FIRST READING: Baruch 5:1 - 9

Rejoice, Jerusalem, and be glad! The glory of God will shine upon you. The mountains and valleys will become a level plain. "God is leading Israel in joy."

SECOND READING: Philippians 1:4 - 6, 8 - 11

Paul prayed for the Philippians that the good work begun in them may be "filled with the fruit of righteousness that comes through Jesus Christ."

GOSPEL READING: Luke 3:1 - 6

The word of God was spoken to John the Baptizer. From that time on he went about proclaiming a baptism of repentance, saying, "Prepare the way of the Lord." Today's readings are unfailingly positive, hopeful for the future. Baruch assures Jerusalem that God is leading its exiled people back home. St. Paul is smitten with the Philippians, confident that they will be found worthy by God. St. Luke introduces St. John the Baptist, and forgiveness. A new day is dawning. Truly, as the psalmist sings we are filled with joy.

LITURGY AND WORD

1st READING: THE SAFE RETURN OF THE EXILES

This passage is actually a poem that the author addresses to Jerusalem. The prophet addresses a message of consolation to Israel in exile. The prophet tells the people that the exile has happened with all its pain and suffering, but it is not the end of everything for there is hope for them to return to their homeland. The author urges Jerusalem to exchange her garments of mourning for the robes of glory and justice that will come from God. The garment is "the clock of justice from God," the guarantee of the sum of harmony, security and prosperity that come from the divine presence. They are encouraged to look eastwards and see her children as they are gathered together and brought home by God. Note the contrast between their going out on foot, led by the enemy, and their glorious return, carried on thrones by God. The Lord orders that the rough ways be made smooth, and he bids the trees to provide shade and fragrance. The Lord himself will serve as their guide. The relevance of this reading for advent is that it proclaims the eschatological renewal of a suffering people. The book of Baruch points to the revelation of the new life that begins with the birth of Jesus Christ.

2nd READING: JOY AND PARTNERSHIP IN THE GOSPEL

Paul's Letter to the Philippians is noted for the joy that Paul feels for the community. This is in contrast with the situation which Paul is in, i.e., Paul is undergoing imprisonment which normally speaking is a joyless period in one's life. The reason for his great joy is the partnership in the gospel from the time when it was first preached among the Philippians. Partnership is equal to fellowship, but fellowship is not just the comfortable experience of Christians enjoying one another's company. It is fellowship in the task of making the gospel known to others. We who have come to know the Good News of Christ should announce it to those who have not received it. Fellowship or Koinonia according to Paul is a designation for various community relationships that come into being through common participation; it can be seen as a reciprocal giving and taking of a portion. As he continues praying for the community, he tells them that whatever God begins, he brings it to fruitful completion.

STEWARDSHIP OF TREASURE

LITURGY AND WORD Cont'd

GOSPEL: THE MINISTRY OF JOHN THE BAPTIST

In the fifteenth year of the reign of the Roman Emperor Tiberius which corresponds to A.D. 28/29 John the Baptist begins his ministry. Tiberius, an adopted son and successor of Augustus Caesar, was emperor from A.D. 14 to 37. Tiberius is considered a just emperor who to a large extent brings peace to the provinces and above all is tolerant towards the Jews. Luke also mentions several other leaders who hold positions of authority concurrently, such as Pilate, Herod the tetrarch and Philip his brother, Annas and Caiaphas. John is designated as a prophet who speaks the Word of God, which is Good News for the people. By this description, Luke has placed him in league with the prominent figures, both political and religious. John understands his role and he reveals it in his exhortation. He calls the people to prepare themselves for the coming of the Savior. The prophecy of Isaiah is being fulfilled with the coming of Christ.

Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

James 4: 7 (KJV)
