17TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

INTRODUCTION TO THE LITURGY OF THE DAY!

FIRST READING: Genesis 18:20 - 32

The Lord was outraged at the sinfulness of Sodom and Gomorrah and was determined to destroy them, but Abraham interceded on behalf of the innocent who lived in those towns, and the Lord relented.

SECOND READING: Colossians 2:12 - 14

The author of Colossians wrote, “You were buried with him in baptism,...also raised with Him.” God has forgiven all our transgressions and “removed it from our midst, nailing it o the cross.”

GOSPEL READING: Luke 11:1 - 13

Jesus taught His disciples the “Abba” prayer. He encouraged them to pray with persistence and to keep knocking on the door. “For everyone who asks, receives; and the one who seeks, finds.”

In the passage from Luke’s Gospel that we hear today the disciples ask Jesus to teach them how to pray. Jesus not only tells them what to say, He assures them of His Father’s attentiveness and concern. But before that, we hear Abraham speaking directly to God, appealing on behalf of the faithful ones. As St. Paul asserts, faith is stronger than death, just as God’s forgiveness is stronger than our sins.

LITURGY AND WORD

1ST READING: ABRAHAM’S PRAYER

Abraham is portrayed here as a great prophet, one who is privy to God’s secrets and prays for his people. But Abraham prays not just for his own people but also for the people of Sodom and Gomorrah. God willingly listens to the pleas of Abraham but the case he presents is hopeless because sins of the people are so unpardonable that Abraham relents to God’s plan. Here we have the lesson that sin invites punishment. Abraham’s dialogue accents the importance God places on mercy alongside the unequivocal insistence on justice and right behaviour.

2ND READING: COLOSSIANS ARE ALIVE IN CHRIST

In this passage Paul contrasts the pagan past of the Colossians with their present state. They have been once separated from God which is equal to death. This dreadful condition has been caused by their sins. Sins are acts of rebellion against God. But now because of the death of Christ God has made them alive in Christ. He has graciously forgiven their sins and therefore the cause of spiritual death has been done away with. God has not only removed the debt; he has also destroyed the document on which the debt is recorded. The debt is impossible to pay, but God has dealt with it; he has blotted it out and cancelled the bond by nailing it to the cross. This is a vivid way of saying that because Christ is nailed to the cross, our debt has been completely forgiven.

GOSPEL: THE OUR FATHER

Luke’s version of the Lord’s Prayer is notably shorter than that in Matthew. Three forms of the “Our Father” are known from antiquity. The shortest is Lucan, with five clauses; Matthew 6:9-13 is longer, with seven clauses; and a still longer form, with seven clauses and a doxology is found in Didache (Teaching of the twelve apostles). The Lucan form of the prayer consists of an address (“Father”), two wishes uttered before God, and three petitions to him. God sanctifies his name by manifesting his loving kindness and saving power. When we pray, “hallowed be thy name,” we are praying that this revelation of the Father’s love and holiness may be accepted by all. God’s children and loving the fellow disciples like brothers and sisters of the same Father. When we pray “your kingdom come” we are praying for the final and definitive establishment of the rule of God. The Kingdom of God, though present, has not yet fully come. Jesus has laid the foundation for the kingdom through his ministry, passion, death and resurrection. By asking us to pray for ‘daily bread,’ Jesus also teaches us to live one day at a time without being anxious about the morrow (Mt 6:25-26). Like the people of Israel in the desert who have had the daily portion of manna from heaven, and they are to take only what is needed for the day (Exod 16:1-21), Jesus invites us to live in poverty of spirit accepting from the hands of the Father the bread needed for the day. The final petition asks for strength to overcome temptation. This petition may have an eschatological sense but this petition also refers to the daily temptations we face. Pope Benedict in his book Jesus of Nazareth says that in order for a man to become mature, he needs to be tried.

LITURGY AND WORD CONT’D
